

Coronavirus

We really didn't expect it,
This virus that is here,
It's called the Coronavirus,
Which has cost us very dear,
The country is in lockdown,
People are to stay at home,
No restaurants, pubs or theatres,
And the cinema is closed.

Our corridors are empty,
Coffee mornings have disappeared,
Our social get together,
I miss with all your cheer,
We have a daily phone call,
To check that all is well,
Thank you, Kim for that,
It really is just swell.

When you think about it,
We've watched a changing world,
We are the strong generation,
That do things rather well,
So as we count the days and weeks,
As they slowly pass us by,
We look forward to our freedom.

By Olive Lacey